

CARRASCO INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

Montevideo, Uruguay

RAFAEL VIÑOLY ARCHITECTS

Carrasco International Airport, officially known as “Aeropuerto Internacional de Carrasco General Cesareo L. Berisso,” serves Montevideo, the capital city of Uruguay. With two million passengers per year, it is the only airport in the country that provides year-round international connections. As a result, it carries great symbolic value as the “front door” for many visitors to the country. Rafael Viñoly Architects’ design expanded and modernized the existing facilities with a spacious new passenger terminal to expand capacity and spur commercial growth and tourism in the region. The new terminal design, with prominence placed on public zones, is based on the regional tradition of seeing family and friends of before a flight.
